

DISCUSSION NOTES

Connect Members to One Another

A wedding is one of life's biggest celebrations.

What was your wedding like?

Did you write your own vows or go with the traditional ones?

If you could do it over, would you do it differently?

If you are not married, what are you envisioning for your wedding?

Connect Members to God

In the message Pastor Schlie gives this advice for anyone seeking to marry: "Look for someone after God's own heart! Find someone with a great life of faith."

If you're unmarried, do you find that this is what you are looking for in a spouse? Has this message series changed your mind on what you should look for?

If you are married, did you prioritize faith when you were dating your future spouse?

How do you think the faith that you and your spouse share (or don't share) is impacting your marriage?

Message Application

Marriage is made up of two sinners in union with one another.

How does acknowledging our fallen nature make marriage harder? How does it make it easier?

Longitudinal studies have revealed that 2/3rds of unhappy marriages will become happy within five years if people stick with it and stay married.

Have you seen this demonstrated in your marriage or the marriage of others you know?

Love in the Bible is an action, not a feeling.

How is this demonstrated in any relationship in your life?
