FAMILY MATTERS

Jesus had strained relationships with his loved ones. They seemed very concerned with either the direction or scale of Jesus's ministry. But when they disagreed with Him, He didn't push them away or get defensive. Instead, He looked to restore healthy relationships.

What stands out to you about the way Jesus responded to difficult family members?

How does Jesus's experience with his family encourage you?

What are some practical ways you can love and respect your family during hostile times?

Is there a family member you need to reconcile with?
